

KENZO

No two people are alike, thank goodness!

When buying an office chair the foremost common denominator is Comfort and Function.

We've designed the Kenzo series to meet the need for style, comfort, ease of operation, and to encourage good posture. This ergonomic design is ideal for people who want a comfortable yet supportive chair at work.

The size of the Kenzo enables the chair to function well in small areas. It's easy to operate and manoeuvre within workstations, yet doesn't look out of place in a spacious office.

Combining attractive visual design with compact physical size and firm comfort, the Kenzo addresses most seating requirements.

Both the backrest and seat are sculptured to fit the human contour. The adjustable back has a lumbar area to support the small of your back, plus the side bolstering has a defined 'S' shape to encourage the user to sit without slumping. The dual density foam seat is supportive and comfortable, not too hard or soft, and the front of seat 'waterfall' allows for comfort under the upper leg area.

With 18 different configurations, each Kenzo chair can be made-to-order. All models include swivel action, back and seat tilt, height (gaslift), backrest (ratchet) adjustment and adjustable arms.

Two types of adjustment are available

1. Three-lever mechanism, which allows multi adjustments to the seat and back positions.
2. Synchron mechanism, which has two-lever defined adjustment flexibility and a seat slide for tall people.

Upholstery

High quality standard black wool house fabric. Other upholstery options available upon request.

Australian Made

Each chair is individually handmade by Master Craftsman, John Schreckenberg and his team. Components are selected to meet the precise requirements of the craftsman. Upholstery is undertaken by John who, with over forty years experience, applies his expert skills to every chair he makes.

Expensive?

You might expect our handmade chairs would be more expensive than 'off the floor' models, but we're sure you'll be pleasantly surprised. Because there is no 'middle man' or retail outlet taking their cut, you are buying direct from the manufacturer which means you not only get a stylish well-made chair, you get our personal service, a factory warranty, and genuine after sales service.

Cost comparison

1 coffee per day for 5 days
@ $4.00 per coffee = $20 per week
Multiply $20 x 50 weeks (annually)
= $1,000 per year
$1,000 x 5 years = $5000

If you drink 5 cups per week on average (250 cups per year), you'll spend approximately $5000 over 5 years.

One Kenzo chair purchase will cost you less than what you spend on coffee in just ONE year. Not only that, the chair will last for least 5 years, and if you treat it with respect, it could last upwards of 10 years! And you won't have to buy another chair for a long time.

Because our quality hand-made ergonomic office chairs help prevent back pain and other posture problems, your work output will increase, your quality of life will improve and your chair will give you superior support and comfort. How good would that be?

It's a no-brainer, really!
