

CHAIRPRO RECOMMENDATION

As an avid listener to Northside Radio 99.3 FM, I have long been aware of ChairPro. As it was time to provide my consulting engineering team with new chairs, I thought I'd check out ChairPro's showroom. I discovered that Peter and Georgi are passionate about the various aspects of their chair designs, ergonomics, postural design, and longevity and that they do know their craft.

We purchased some their Kenzo chairs, and my staff really like them. As the company owner, I have a duty of care to my team's well-being and I am pleased to provide a chair that has been well thought-out from a postural perspective by a professional. Given the benefits that the Kenzo chair provides, I consider that they represent very good value for money, and far better value than cheaper products that fail in some way after a year or two and don't provide correct posture.

In addition, the service we received from ChairPro was brilliant; they are easy to do business with. And a lovely postscript to our purchase, was when Peter and Georgi delivered our chairs, Peter discovered that my personal chair, which has given me wonderful service for 16 years, was one of his designs. I recall taking great pains to select that chair from many candidates in 2003, and am very pleased to have finally met the designer.
